Neuro Linguistic Programming encompasses many different processes that influence the way behavior develops. It also includes strategic thoughts and practices that make use of psychological principals and processes that govern human behavior. NLP gives every individual the skills and tools required in order to develop their own state of excellence, while establishing liberating views and assumptions about human beings, what is actually meant by communication, and what change entails. On a deeper level, NLP is about discovering one's true self, identity, and purpose. NLP provides a structure for understanding and connecting to the physical aspect of human experiences that reach past the individual, into their family, locality and worldly systems. NLP is more than competence and excellence; it also equates to wisdom and vision too. Why Should I Change My Limiting Beliefs? Its way too common these days for people to be living lies that are not up to par with their own happiness. You watch people complain about the state of their lives, and you watch them hold themselves back with these limiting beliefs which they have about themselves, about the world around them, and about the life that they live. They don't really want to take responsibility for their lives, nor do they really understand that they are creating the life that they live, because they think reality is fixed. It may be hard to accept, but if you are living a life that is anything less than satisfactory and joyful, its because your focus, your thoughts, and thus your beliefs are not up to par with your desires.
